Welcome Home.

Hello there! First off, we'd like to extend our sincerest gratitude to you for being a part of our journey. The Red Roses Creative Enrichment Program is proud to provide creative education and programming to historically excluded youth and young adults in the Los Angeles area. Every person that walks through our doors is part of our family— including you! We thank you for your consideration as a potential sponsor to our nonprofit.

Every donation we receive goes a long way towards providing better education, resources, a safe space, and empowering environment for our members who may not be able to access them otherwise. Sponsorships directly fund our programs and classes for creative arts. There's no better way to say it; these funds change lives. With your support, we can continue our tradition of providing high caliber education that combines community centered teaching practices with arts education that inspires youth to express themselves, build empathy, take action in their communities, and empower themselves and others to change the world.

Thank you for your consideration and welcome home.

About RCEP

Red Roses Creative Enrichment Program Inc. is a 501(c)(3) non-profit membership organization that focuses on:

- providing historically excluded youth and first generation artists with better access to artistic education and performance opportunities in theatre, music and other forms of creative expression.
- conducting classes and workshops for training and study in these arts for children, youth, and young adults
- instituting and presenting public programs in the creative arts
- furthering creative expression in the creative arts, in both traditional and experimental forms, and to encourage experimentation in new forms

RCEP focuses on cultivating an environment for personal and professional growth. RCEP supports members' academic progress alongside their journey and exploration in the arts. Alongside our professionally active staff, students also receive additional instruction, workshops, and performance opportunities from guest artists. RCEP aspires to deliver fulfilling and successful livelihoods for both members and staff while tapping into their talents and experiences.

Our Mission

RCEP provides inner-city youth, young people, and historically excluded individuals with access to opportunities for creative enrichment, empowerment, and a safe space through creative arts and experiences.
